The other teachers elected Monday evening were William K. Foreman, Hanover, who will graduate at Shippensburg with a Bachelor of Science degree in May, and George Glenn Jr., Fairfield R. 2, also a member of the graduating class at Shippensburg. Both were named to elementary teaching positions.

Their salaries were not stated but will be the salary to be decided upon for beginning teachers in the 1962-63 school term here. The board has not yet made a decision on what that figure will be. Starting salary this year was $3,800. The state minimum is $3,600.

Group To Study Status Of Women

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has set a new commission off on the task of finding out "the things that are right and the things that are wrong" concerning the status of women.

He told the group Monday he wants to make sure American women "are able to move ahead and perform without any discrimination by law or by implication."

The 26-member Commission on the Status of Women, headed by Eleanor Roosevelt, then held its first meeting, in the executive wing of the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who came to Washington to preside at the two-day organization meeting, said the commission's major aim was "to get information on whatever discriminations exist and get before the public."

In setting up the commission last December, Kennedy said he wants its report by Oct. 1, 1963.

SCOTT PLANK, LIVESTOCK DEALER, DIES

Scott R. Plank, 67, York Springs, died suddenly Monday afternoon at the Lillich feed mill in York Springs. He had been under a physician's care for some time with a heart condition.

For a number of years he had operated a calf route, going each Monday to a number of farms through the area to secure calves to be delivered to Bowmansdale.

He had engaged in that work Monday and had seemed in normal health. Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock he went to the G. W. Lillich and Son Mill for chicken feed. Attendants there heard someone enter the door and then heard a thud as if the person had fallen to the floor. They rushed to Mr. Plank's side and then called Dr. William Flickinger, his physician, who pronounced him dead.

2 FAIRFIELD SCOUTS EARN EAGLE AWARD

Two members of Boy Scout Troop 76 of Fairfield Monday night became the first youths in that community to receive the Eagle Scout award, highest given in scouting.

The two were Gary Spence, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Spence, Fairfield R. 1, a freshman at Fairfield High School, and Gary Sanders, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Sanders, Fairfield R. 1, a senior at Fairfield High School.

Both scouts were praised by Black Walnut Boy Scout District Chairman Charles Ritter, Littlestown, who presented the badges to their parents who in turn pinned them to the uniforms of their sons.

RITTER SPEAKS

Mrs. Spence, a Cub Scout den mother in Fairfield for the last six years, was in den mother's uniform for the court of honor, and said that she was pleased to note that most of the youths who received honors at the Scout troop court of honor were former members of her den.

Ritter, in a talk to the parents and Scouts, said: The best things in life are not free. They require work whether it is advancement in Scouting, advancement of the church or community. In fact much of the pleasure comes from the work. These two young men who have achieved the Eagle award should be an inspiration to all of us. It takes long hard work to become an Eagle Scout. That is one reason so few gain that honor. But at the same time there is a sense of achievement that makes the work well worth

TEACHER SAYS NEW COURSE IS AID TO PUPILS

Ninth Grade students at Gettysburg High School who this year for the first time are being offered a four-day-a-week course in "Human Relations" are getting "something of value" from it, in the opinion of the teacher, Mrs. Anita Horch.

"I'm very enthusiastic about the course," Mrs. Horch told members of the joint school committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board at the high school building Monday evening during the committee's February meeting. She had been introduced by Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle, who said he felt that such a course "was long overdue in our schools."

Mrs. Horch said the general aim is to help pupils develop into contributing members of society by first understanding themselves and their problems.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

"We discuss all kinds of problems, personal, school, family, and then I test them on the 'general principles involved,'" Mrs. Horch said.

She said she tries to make the Freshman student aware of the transition period through which he is passing, help him to develop his own individual philosophies, discover others have similar problems, outgrow family domination and generally offer help in the change from childhood to adulthood.

Mrs. Horch said the list of discussion topics has included intelligence, personality, introverted and extroverted persons, getting along with the crowd, the benefits and dangers of gangs, cliques

TRY MARYLAND COUPLE AS FEB. TERM BEGINS

Trial of Edward C. and Mary R. Lambert, Keymar R. 2, Md., on a charge of removing property under levy opened the criminal trials for the February term in the Adams County court this morning. The charge was brought by Sheriff Dawson Miller.

The sheriff testified to making a levy on property of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert in Cumberland Twp. last March. When he went to sell the goods he found a number of articles were missing, he said. He testified to having seen some articles which he felt were the ones that had levied on at the Lambert property on a property in Maryland.

Lambert, on the stand in his own defense this morning, said that he had removed nothing from the property in Cumberland Twp. after the levy and claimed that he owned nothing at that property prior to the levy.

WAS DAUGHTER'S PROPERTY

Lambert said he arrived home in Cumberland Twp. last March to find a levy had been made and then decided to find another home. He said he moved to near DeTour, Md., because he found a house available there and it was "closer to my work." He is a mason

HEART GROUP GIVEN $40,000 IN 14 YEARS

Of the approximately $40,000 raised by the Adams County Heart Association during its 14 years of existence, approximately $9,000 has been spent for equipment, beds, for use by those suffering from heart disease. Rev. Charles E. Held reported Monday evening at a joint meeting of the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimists, Exchange and other service clubs at Gettysburg High School.

The program marked the beginning of the annual drive for funds headed by Rev. Mr. Held since the inception of the group. At that time, Rev. Mr. Held said, "The organization consisted of Dr. Raymond Sheely, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Henry M. Scharf and myself. We asked the various Lions and Rotary clubs of the county for contributions and received $375 in our first drive."

"The next year we expanded to a 15-member executive committee and started a regular fund drive. Later we developed a 21-man executive committee and have continued to expand our activities yearly."

HAVE 35 BEDS

"Of the $40,000 raised, 40 per cent went to the state and national organization to help carry out research into heart disease, while the remaining 60 per cent has been used for the people of the county in direct service. We have 35 hospital-type beds throughout the county for use by heart patients, and it is difficult to find one not in use. Usually I have to check at all the fire houses and other centers, which are custodians, before one can be located, and frequently all are in use at the time."

"We are also conducting a program in the hospital of providing medication for youngsters who suffer from rheumatic fever, with the hope of preventing future heart disease," he added.

Dr. Benjamin Musser, Harrisburg heart specialist, who was the principal speaker at the dinner at which Rev. Held presided, said, "The program Rev. Mr. (Continued On Page 3)

NEW SCHOOL IS KEEPING AHEAD OF SCHEDULE; LONG SESSION

Gettysburg's new senior high school building remains ahead of schedule despite recent delays by reason of bad weather, members of the joint school committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board learned Monday evening at their February meeting at the high school building.

Henry Pettit, who is the on-the-job supervisor for Architect John B. Hamme, told the school directors the new school is 35 per cent complete but no one would venture a guess on a completion date. Pettit said there have been only six working days this winter that masons were not busy on the site.

In answer to questions, representative of A. B. Seifert and Son, Inc., the general contractor, said every effort is being made to cooperate with borough officials' demands that S. Stratton St. and other town streets be kept clean despite the movement of trucks and other heavy equipment from the building site via Stratton St. That is the only approach and exit available to the building site, it was pointed out. New fill makes it impossible to reach the new building from the present high school area.

UNFINISHED IN 3 HOURS

The joint school committee was in session three hours Monday evening and then adjourned until Monday, February 26, when extensive recommendations from the teacher and curriculum committee will be taken up. President Oren H. Wilson presided Monday evening.

Considerable time was spent Monday evening in hearing Jacob C. Britcher, the school district's agent of record, describe the "public and institutional property" insurance plan the board adopted last year, its operation and the duties of the agent of record in connection therewith.

It took three roll call votes before the board decided to give that agent of record 40 per cent of the total business under the "PIP" plan and let the finance and planning committee allocate the remainder of the insurance business among other full-time, local agents able to write "PIP" insurance.

CHAPLAIN WORK IN STATE PARKS IS DESCRIBED

Seminarian Harry Hall told members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Gettysburg Methodist Church at their monthly meeting Monday evening of his experiences as park chaplain for the Shawnee State Park, near Bedford.

Mr. Hall was one of three state park chaplains serving last summer under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches. "Last summer sixteen and a half million people camped," Hall said, and this type of vacationing, "helped the family to live together as a unit for a change and got people back to nature and away from the demands and drive toward higher materialistic success. People as individuals became much freer, less anxious and much more relaxed" as a result of their camping experiences, he said.

In a question and answer period Hall said, "If the local churches would make their members aware of the fact that park ministry is available when they go camping, it would prove helpful, not only to the campers, but also to the chaplains." He said he hoped that more churches will urge support for this evangelistic project and thus enable a greater number of state parks to offer this ministry to their campers.

Prior to Mr. Hall's presentation, the women saw slides of work being done by Methodist deaconesses in the Central Pennsylvania Conference. Mrs. Robert Deardoff led the devotion and Mrs. J. Slaybaugh presided over the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Diehl. Mrs. Diehl is at the U.N. convention of the Methodist Church at New York City as a delegate from the local church.

In the report from the Council of Churchwomen, the group was reminded of the World Day of Prayer services to be held on March 9 and of a workshop for the council and interested persons to be held at the Church of the Brethren March 1 to 4. Plans for a pie and soup sale to be held on Friday, Feb. 16, at the church, were announced by Mrs. Francis Cartzenadner for the Isabelle Thoburn Circle. Mrs. Milton Rummel reported for the Carrie McMillan Circle and Mrs. Adrian Martin for the Young Mothers' Circle. Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Hamilton, chairman, Mrs. Ezra Chambers, Mrs. Pauline Mowery, Mrs. Charles Kauffman and Mrs. Ernest Overton. The next meeting will be held on March 12 at the church.

HEART GROUP

Held is talking about is one that should pay off in about 20 years. SHOW MOVIES

"We don't know just how well the medication program will work because the persons we are treating now for heart defects brought about as a result of rheumatic fever suffered the disease 20 or 30 years ago. We believe that the program will pay off. We'll find out about 20 years from now."

Dr. Musser used movies and slides to show the work that has been done inside hearts for repair of closed valves and other defects, and showed slides of the scraping of calcium from blocked arteries and the replacement of some blocked arteries with artificial arteries.

His talk demonstrated how research within the last few years has resulted in tremendous advances in the technique of handling heart conditions.

ARTIFICIAL VALVE

He showed an artificial valve that can be used to replace damaged valves in the heart. Sections of artificial arteries placed in humans to replace sections that have become damaged or blocked so they are no longer usable were described by Dr. Musser as "stronger than the patient's own arteries. They will outlast the patient."

Use of artificial valves in the heart is so recent a development that "we do not as yet know just how well they will hold up. None have been in for five or 10 years or more because they have not been developed that long. So far they are a last ditch measure, used only when nothing else will work. In another decade we will know whether they should be used as a normal procedure."

Commenting on changes that have come in heart care, he observed, "Two years ago I would have said the best way to restore a stopped heart would be to open the chest and massage the heart. Now I no longer would advise such action in the home. The closed chest method of simply pushing hard enough on the breast bone does the work just as well."

DEFECTS AT BIRTH

He said that the film shown the group, made several years ago, was "somewhat out of date" in several instances.

Heart disease includes heart defects at birth. He described how some sections fail to close and can be remedied by surgery. He described and showed heart trouble resulting from rheumatic heart disease and troubles resulting from hypertension and hardening of the arteries "which begins probably on the day you are born and gets worse until the day you die."

The film showed treatment including opening of clogged valves in the heart by a physician placing a finger into the heart and using a knife where needed to cut the valve open.

He also showed use of a refrigerated mattress and blanket to reduce the temperature of the patient to a point where the heart can be opened "and the surgeon can work by sight rather than feel. It makes for much better work as you can readily understand and permits doing many more things than could be attempted by using the sense of feel alone."

He indicated that he expects the rapid advance in heart and blood vessel work will continue as a result of the "tremendous sums" that are being "poured into research."

He also observed that "the cost of treatment will probably increase. In opening the heart and doing surgery directly by sight you have to bypass the heart entirely. An artificial heart is set up and filled with 15 pints of blood, so the patient will not lose blood. Then the heart is bypassed but the patient continues to function as normal with an artificial heart doing the work of his own heart. It takes 11 specialists to operate all of the machinery, keep track of everything and do the actual surgery. Because of the expense only the larger hospitals now have the equipment for such surgery."

Countdown

Conditions in the other two areas—500 miles south of Bermuda and 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral—were reported satisfactory.

The weather expert said a series of disturbances was running through the Atlantic east of Bermuda, with a new frontal wave developing every few hours. The last two waves were less severe than those of Monday, he reported.

He said the weather trough causing the disturbance was breaking down in a few days, giving hope that the launching can be attempted later this week if not accomplished Wednesday.

WEATHER REPORT

At an 8:30 a.m. weather briefing the National Aeronautics and Space Administration released this report:

"The western Atlantic is still subject to stormy conditions in the area around Bermuda and about 800 miles to the east. Small-scale storm centers are moving northward across the path of first orbit at frequent intervals."

"Marginal wind and sea conditions, together with cloudiness and showers, are indicated in that area, but there is no positive indication of another storm forming before planned launch time. There has been little change in the eastern half of the Atlantic where trade winds are still well above normal."

"In the Cape Canaveral area, cloudiness or fog is likely again Wednesday morning, but should not persist past midmorning."

Offer Slide Story
On Electric Utility

The Edison Electric Institute slide story on the past growth and future expansion plans of America's investor-owned electric utility industry has been made available for presentation to church, civic and community groups and clubs in the Gettysburg area. The announcement, made today by W. A. Lentz, district manager of the Metropolitan Edison Co., coincides with the electrical industry's seventh annual nationwide observance of National Electrical Week, February 11-17. Vice Chairman of the NEW committee is T. O. McQuiston, vice president and general sales manager of MECO.

The yearly observance, focusing on the February 11 birthday of Thomas A. Edison, father of the modern electric industry, is both a salute to the genius from Menlo Park and to the rapid strides in electrical living which his incandescent electric light and generator initiated.

Edison successfully demonstrated his electric light during the Christmas season of 1879-1880 and in the 82 years since that historic occasion the investor-owned electric utility industry has never ceased growing and expanding its facilities to meet and anticipate the increasing power needs in home, office and industry.

Any clubs or groups interested in obtaining the EEI slide story should contact Mr. Lentz at MECO's Gettysburg district office, telephone ED 4-2141.

There is no charge for the program.

During the afternoon William Cochran, assistant extension director, spoke on "The Development of an Effective Long Range Program."

During the all-day session the executive committee considered the various findings of the long range planning committees during 1961 and decided to set up a special committee to determine how best to use the findings of the long range committees in expanding the program of extension.

and clubs, good and bad personality traits, the importance of looks and attitudes, the importance of leaders and followers and rules of etiquette. "I offer the basic rule of sincere concern for the welfare of others as the best general guide for etiquette," Mrs. Horch said.

TALK ABOUT DATES

Family problems are discussed and youngsters are encouraged to treat parents "as friends," the teacher said. The difference between puppy love and romantic love are pointed out and the matter of going steady has been talked over.

"For most of the students, going steady is not intended to lead to marriage but to give assurance of regular dates," Mrs. Horch said. "There was a great deal of interest in the discussions on dating," she recalled.

Choosing a vocation, mental and physical health, inferiority complexes, juvenile delinquency and choosing vocations are other discussion topics.

Mrs. Horch also reported briefly on a guidance class with which she meets once a week to discuss how to study, personal adjustments, job or college life preparation and other related topics.

In answer to questions, Mrs. Horch said most of her classes have 30 to 35 pupils but one has only six. "Probably we accomplish the most for the pupils in a class where there are 12," she said.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Firemen Held Big Masquerade:
Gettysburg's firemen on Monday evening held the most largely attended public dance given in this place for many years, between three hundred and four hundred young people—and some not so young—gathering at Xavier Hall for an evening of dancing and fun.

And they had it. One hundred of the dancers were in costume and were masked. They opened the affair with a grand march led by Wm. McG. Tawney and Miss Weaver and after going through a number of figures swung off into the first two step.

Heroic Action Merits Reward:
A movement has been started here to secure for Samuel Knox, who so heroically tried to save Mrs. Steinhilber from death Sunday morning, some recognition from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission and steps will be taken to bring Mr. Knox's case to the attention of that body.

Gettysburg Rural News: The long winter has had the general effect of making snakes a rare article and few have been seen in Adams County for a number of weeks. Clarence and George McKenrick, of Highland Township, have the rather unique distinction of having killed a reptile within the past few days, the two young men dispatching a water snake at Willoughby's Run.

May Straighten Mountain Curves: The engineers now located at Graeffenburg inn, making surveys and estimates relative to the reconstruction and realignment of parts of the Chambersburg and Gettysburg turnpike, a link of the great highway between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, are spending busy days.
An important change most likely to be mapped out for probably realignment of this road is that at and near Newman's on the South Mountain.

Fire Destroys Valley House:
The home of Frank Clapsadde in Buchanan Valley was completely destroyed by fire about noon on Friday, the blaze originating from a defective flue. With the residence practically all the furniture was burned and, no insurance being carried, the loss is total.
Great headway had been gained by the flames before they were discovered and the first intimation the family had came when a portion of the roof fell in. The timbers had ignited at the garret and the entire upper portion of the building was in an angry blaze when the Clapsadde family discovered it.

Those Taken By Hand Of Death:
Mrs. G. A. Klingel, of New Oxford, died at her home at noon Sunday aged 54 years, 8 months and 18 days.

She was a daughter of John Holtzworth, of Gettysburg, who died about twenty years ago. Since her marriage to Mr. Klingel in 1876 she had been a resident of New Oxford. Mrs. Klingel was ill about a year.
She leaves her husband, one son, Ira Klingel, of New Oxford, and one daughter, Miss Elsie Klingel, at home. She also leaves one brother, C. D. Holtzworth, of Allegheny City.

IN NURSING HOME
STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's Grand Old Man, was in a nursing home today after being discharged from Dameron Hospital, where he was treated for a knee ailment.
Stagg, 90, who coached football for 70 years, was hospitalized Feb. 5. Doctors said Monday he was in good condition.
Stagg's 100th birthday will be Aug. 16.

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis, once the nation's top labor union leader, celebrated his 82nd birthday Monday.
Lewis retired two years ago as president of the United Mine Workers but remains active as chief trustee of the union's big welfare fund.

Today's Talk

Sometimes I think the old virtue of sacrifice has lost its way in the world—you see it so frequently.

Yet, were all the facts known, I believe they would show that there are more people in the world doing deeds for others and giving of themselves to their own material loss than ever before.

For sacrifice doesn't show its face excepting as it shines and lights up everybody about its deed.

If sacrifice is advertised, it loses its fragrance. Many are the beautiful flowers of manhood and womanhood which are born "to bluish unseen" as well as to wilt unsung though their very presence in the world has made it far more beautiful.

It is natural for a mother to sacrifice, and under any protest you could draw nothing but a smile from her.

In life, what is worth while? The answer to this question marks the measure of our worth in the world and gauges the degree to which we respect ourselves and are willing to sacrifice for others.

There is nothing that brings so much happiness to one as giving to make others happy through much personal sacrifice. This is one's compensation.

The human heart is the richest mine in the world. It contains more than pure gold, more than the most precious pearls or the most mystifying stones from the silent breast of the earth.

You never know the greatness of life until you have sacrificed much for the pleasure and happiness of others.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Possessions." Protected, 1962, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

TO HER
"To the mother of my children,
And the faithful wife of mine."
That's the line that I shall scribble
On a simple valentine,
Just to sort of reassure her
In an old man's blunderin' way,
That I'm allus thinkin' of her
Through the troubles of the day.

TO HER
"To the mother of my children,
An' the faithful wife of mine,"
That's the way that I shall greet her
With some simple valentine.
An' her eyes will start to gleamin'
An' her heart go pit-a-pat,
For there isn't any title
That would please her more'n that.

SO IT'S THAT WAY THAT I'LL GREET HER,
Just to sort of let her know
That she's still the same old sweetheart
That she was long years ago;
That there's no one any fairer
Than my early valentine,
Now the mother of my children
An' the faithful wife of mine.

Summit meetings, he said, "ought to be handled with considerable care and advance preparation. It is important that when the summit meets that it be successful. There are considerable dangers and disadvantages if the summit meets and ends in disagreement and in increased tension."

SERIOUS TALKS
Rusk said: "We believe that what is now called for is some systematic, serious, hard and determined and quiet negotiation to translate these agreed (general disarmament) principles which have been endorsed by the U.N. General Assembly into reality and fact."
"And we do not believe that this kind of negotiation can best be carried on at a heads of government level because, among other things, there are problems of time and there are problems of commitment."
"But these ought to be explored first through other channels with a possibility that heads of government may be able then to remove any remaining points of difference and put their final conclusions into operation."

GOP BLASTS OWN PARTY IN LINCOLN TALKS

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Republicans engaged in praising the greatness of Abraham Lincoln are coming up with about as much criticism of Republicans as they are leveling at the Democrats.

Margaret Chase Smith of Maine the lone GOP woman senator, topped the political soul-searching with a suggestion Monday night in Bangor, Maine, that her party's leading lights are ducking the 1964 presidential nomination because they are afraid they can't beat President Kennedy.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., scolded Republicans in a New York speech for "paying too much attention to the thunder on the right and not enough attention to the thunder in the cities."

TOO MUCH EXTREMISM
Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., said in Seattle, Wash., he agrees with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that "extreme left wingers were advocating socialism, while the extreme right wingers were advocating strong-arm government."

Saltonstall, who described himself as a moderate, indicated he wishes both wings would go away. He said neither subscribes to the "real aims" of the Republican or Democratic parties.

Mrs. Smith blasted what she called "faintheartedness" among the Republicans. She made it clear she thinks former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York may be "waiting for a sunny day" in 1968 to bid for the presidency.

DECLINED COMMENT
Nixon and Rockefeller declined comment. But a Rockefeller spokesman pointed out that when the governor was asked Sunday during a television interview whether he thought a Republican could beat Kennedy in 1964 he replied, "I certainly do."

Mrs. Smith suggested that perhaps "the really true role contemplated for George Romney is to be the sacrificial lamb on the Republican altar in 1964."

Romney is taking a leave as head of American Motors to seek the GOP nomination for governor of Michigan. There is speculation that, if he is elected, he will go after the party's presidential nomination two years hence.

Commenting in Cincinnati, Ohio on Romney's entry into the race, Goldwater said he hopes that during the campaign Romney "is able to decide more emphatically that he is a Republican" than some of his statements on a previous television program indicated.

Arrest Fifth Man In Bank Holdup

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The FBI has arrested a fifth man in connection with an $8,659 bank holdup at Broadheadville, Pa., last October.

The Philadelphia office of the FBI announced Monday Joe Lee Sims, 27, of Okala, Miss., was seized by agents in Chicago.

The FBI last week arrested two brothers, Robert Hall, Jr., 28, was picked up in Florida, and Vandy Hall, 21, was taken into custody at his home in Hamilton Township, N.J.

Earlier Otis Zellner Jr., 22, was arrested at Macon, Ga., and Everett Williams Jr., 21, at Belzoni, Miss.

All five are awaiting hearings on removal to Pennsylvania.
The bank, the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., was held up at noon Oct. 20 by three armed men. They forced employees into a small office, cleaned out the cash drawers and fled in a waiting car. None of the money has been recovered.

The same bank was held up in May, 1960, by two gunmen who took $34,238. They were arrested and later pleaded guilty.

Says State Must Create More Jobs

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania says the creation of new jobs is one of the major challenges his state must face in the years ahead.

Lawrence, addressing the Community Development Workshop of the National Association of Community Officials Monday, told some 200 officials from 12 northeastern states that the creation of jobs "is not a stop-gap operation."

State government must assume new responsibility for leadership, guidance and planning, said Lawrence, adding:
"When local government needs help of any kind, state agencies must be prepared to work with local officials for the mutual benefit of both."

Says Kennedy To Hire More Negroes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The associate press secretary to President Kennedy says more than 4,000 federal jobs will be open for Negroes in the near future as a result of the President's Equal Opportunity Committee.

The secretary, Andrew Hatcher, a Negro, said Monday the administration "does not intend to let up for one moment" in its efforts to find jobs for qualified Negroes in the New Frontier.

Hatcher addressed the annual Lincoln Day banquet of the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter of Lincoln University.

He said Negroes should play a greater role in domestic and world affairs.

Hatcher said the Negro is "almost nonexistent" as an investor. "With few exceptions... he has not organized his capital," said Hatcher.

American Negroes own less than one half of one per cent of the nation's 4,500,000 business firms, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg says stockpiling has begun among steel users in anticipation of a strike later this year.

"The stockpiling has not reached dangerous proportions yet, but by every indication it has commenced," Goldberg said Sunday in a CBS television interview—"Washington conversation."

WALT DISNEY PRODUCTIONS MADE PROFITS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The annual stockholders meeting of Walt Disney Productions was called to order at 2 p.m., just as the notice said.

Present in the studio theater were 200 stockholders, mostly middle-aged and middle-class, but with a sprinkling of juvenile capitalists. The latter remained silent during the meeting, except for one 12-year-old boy who seconded a motion.

The meeting was called to order by company counsel Gunther Lessing, a man who looked and sounded like Judge Hardy. He suggested waiving the reading of the minutes of the last meeting as well as the annual report.

"Is that satisfactory?" he asked.

OVER $4 MILLION

"Very satisfactory," said a voice from the stockholders. The cheerful atmosphere may have been due to the firm's profits: $4,465,486 vs. a $1,342,037 loss the year before.

President Roy Disney made his report in down-to-earth Missouri tones. Production chief Walt was not present; "We've got to keep him working," explained his brother.

"We had a very good year and we're on the way to another good year," Roy said reassuringly. He mentioned that "Pinocchio" on its fourth re-issue might do double its original release in 1940.

BREAK EVEN ON TV

"We operate without any big names from the outside," he said. "A lot of people in our business are enamored with names. We think the important thing is the picture itself."

There was a report on Disneyland—attendance going up, $6 million in improvements this year. Then Roy fielded some questions from the stockholders.

What about returns from TV? "We're still about breaking even," he said. "We don't make money directly from TV, but use it to exploit our product in theaters. TV is a difficult game; you're limited by the sponsor's budget. You can't have a big pay-off."

What about selling old films to TV? "We're in show business," he answered. "Why sell your old clothes to a competitor? After 39 years, we still own all our negatives. And I might add that all our films would have no censorship problems on TV."

DREW CHUCKLES

Pay TV? "We're watching it," Roy said. "We see no reason why pay TV couldn't operate side-by-side with commercial TV. But pay TV is years down the road yet."

Lessing drew chuckles with his denial that Nikita Khrushchev was in the employ of Disneyland as a press agent. "He tells that one every year," confided the man in the next seat.

The annual report was accepted and the directors elected, there being quorum of 88 per cent of outstanding shares—the Disneys own 750,000 of the 1,626,033 total. Stockholders were invited to pick

SELL ESTATE FOR $550,000

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—The 738-acre estate of Lowell M. Birrell, central figure in an alleged $14 million stock fraud, has been sold after months of legal jockeying. Birrell has been a fugitive for nearly five years.

It was disclosed today that Solebury Farms, Inc., paid $550,000 for the 19 parcels of property in nearby Solebury Township. The estate takes in several luxury homes, among them houses formerly owned by the late Moss Hart, famed playwright, and the author, Budd Schulberg.

Birrell, New York financier and lawyer, disappeared in 1957. Two years later he was located in Brazil and indicted by a New York grand jury. The government has been trying to extradite him, but at the time Birrell went to Brazil there was no extradition treaty between the two countries. Although there is one now the Brazilian government has been advised by its legal authority that the treaty cannot be retroactive.

LOSES APPEALS

After Birrell's Bucks County holdings were turned over to court-appointed receivers Birrell's wife, Merri, tried to block their sale through an appeal to the U. S. District court. She said 137 acres of the land belonged to her, and not to her husband's company, Bucks County Farms, Inc.

The court denied her claim. An appeal to Circuit Court of appeals also was turned down. The sale was concluded at the end of a time limit for appealing to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Birrell formerly was president of Swan-Finch Oil Corp. and chairman of Doeskin Products Corp. He is accused of perpetrating the huge stock fraud against stockholders of the two companies.

DEPEND ON LEMON

A lot depends on Jim Lemon. If he can start hitting home runs the way he did before last year, he'll start in left with Lenny Green and Tuttle in center and Bob Allison in right field. Otherwise, Killebrew will move to left field.

One position which is wide open in second base, Jim Snyder, a fine glove man, gets his first major league chance with us. He'll battle Billy Martin and others for the spot.

Shortstop Zorro Versalles and catcher Earl Battey are set at their positions.

The Yankees, Tigers and White Sox are the teams to beat. The White Sox, in my opinion, are going to surprise a lot of people.

Waynesboro Dribblers Meet GHS Here Tonight; Biglerville At Hanover

Gettysburg High (1-13) will play its first home basketball game since January 26 when it meets Waynesboro High here this evening in a nonleague game.

Improvement in physical condition is hoped for by Coach George Forney whose Warriors were obviously not in peak shape at Carlisle where they were held to a paltry seven points in the second half Saturday afternoon.

Waynesboro is enjoying one of its best seasons and now sport a 14-5 overall record. The Indians trounced the Warriors 76-41 in their previous clash at Waynesboro on January 16.

Russ Zuck, Jeff Hovis, Dick Loy, Mike Olier, Ken Beam and Harold Myers are the big guns for Waynesboro, all being veterans from last year.

At 6:45 the Warriors reserves will attempt to avenge a 61-23 setback at Waynesboro.

Gettysburg Junior High resumes action against Faust at Chambersburg tonight. In other league games Carlisle plays at Hanover and Central at Waynesboro.

Biglerville and Hanover clash at Hanover in the lone South Penn game scheduled this evening. The Cambers bowed to the Nighthawks at Biglerville 55-46 in first-half play.

A full set of games is scheduled in the Adams-Franklin League with the following games: Fannett-Metal at Fairfield, Quincy at New Oxford, Scotland at Bermudian, Littlestown at Buchanan, and St. Thomas at Greencastle. In the Central Penn Catholic League tonight Lebanon plays at Lancaster and Shamokin at Bishop McDevitt. Delone's next league game is with Lancaster Catholic at McSherrystown Friday.

DELONE GAINS 11TH TRIUMPH

Delone Catholic notched its 11th basketball victory in 18 games by downing St. Francis Prep at Spring Grove Monday evening 55-41. The loss was the eighth straight for St. Francis and its 12th in 13 contests.

After battling to an 11-11 stalemate in the first period, the Squires began to pull steadily away and led throughout.

Jim Weaver and Jim Livelsberger looped 15 and 13 points for Delone while John Carmody hit for 18 for the prep squad.

The Delone reserves breezed to an easy 65-24 triumph in the preliminary.

Delone will meet Lancaster Catholic at McSherrystown Friday evening in a league game.

Resume Battle For Cage Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The late-developing race for the top spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division resumes tonight when the leading Boston Celtics take on Chicago and Philadelphia's runner-up Warriors meet Cincinnati.

The Celtics have had their commanding edge whittled down to 5½ games by the streaking Warriors, winners of 5 in a row and 14 of their last 16.

In the lone contest Monday night, the St. Louis Hawks continued their campaign for a play-off berth in the West by knocking off pacesetter Los Angeles 117-113.

J. BLANCHARD DOUBLES HIS 1961 SALARY

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Blanchard, part-time catcher and outfielder who is carrying a first baseman's mitt around the New York Yankees advance baseball training camp, has received a $7,000 raise for being "captain of the scrubbin'" for the world champions.

The 29-year-old reserve signed his 1962 contract Monday along with pitchers Bob Turley and Hal Stowe, and received a 50 per cent raise to $21,000 for his hefty hitting in 1961.

The slugging utilityman swung at a .305 clip with 21 homers, winning eight games in a pinch-hitting role—four with circuit shots. He also tied a major league record by hitting homers in four consecutive times at bat, although he did it in several games. He continued his clutch hitting with two homers in the World Series against Cincinnati.

FIFTH YEAR

Blanchard said with a big, broad grin: "You know, I'm the captain of the scrubbin' (reserves). This is my eighth year in rookie camp."

Turley, the outstanding pitcher in the majors in 1958 when he posted a 21-7 record and a 2-1 mark in the World Series, was bothered by arm trouble last year. He took an estimated $3,000 cut to $25,000. Stowe, a left-hander, was 14-1 with Amarillo of the Texas League.

Signing activity among other clubs was light with the Cincinnati Reds coming to terms with outfielder Wally Post, a .294 hitter last year, and rookie hurler Bob Risenhoover while the Milwaukee Braves signed rookie infielder Amado Samuel.

Dan Swartz Paces Tapers Over Saints

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When the Los Angeles Jets' franchise folded last month and the players on their roster were distributed to the other American Basketball League teams, the New York Tapers acquired Dan Swartz.

Swartz found the range for 30 points Monday night as New York whipped the San Francisco Saints 109-100 on the victors' court.

In the only other game played, the Hawaii Chiefs edged the Pipers 137-136 in double overtime at Cleveland.

Swartz has supplied most of the Tapers' scoring impetus since he switched to his new club. The ex-Morehead State collegian has collected 144 points in his last four home games.

42 Horses Burn In Stable Blazes

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Fire whipped through a stable housing dozens of show horses Monday night. Forty-two horses, including one valued at $20,000, were killed, the stable operator reported.

Thirty-two horses were led to safety.

The stable was leased by city councilman Cas Walker, who estimated the horses lost in the blaze were worth at least $75,000. The loss included 25 of Walker's animals.

Most of the animals in the barn were show horses, the rest quarter horses and pet riding horses. Cause of the fire was unknown.

FAIRFIELD WINS

The Fairfield Junior High cagers defeated Littlestown 24-22 in a game played Monday at Fairfield.

SECOND MONEY WINNER

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer has climbed into second place in the Professional Golfers Association's list of top 10 money winners.

The $5,300 he received for his 12-stroke victory in the Phoenix Open—his second tournament triumph in two weeks—gave him a total of $12,425 for 1962. Gene Littler in first place won only $136 last week and has a total of $14,186.

COMMUNITY CAGE LEAGUE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Could it be that Mississippi State is making permanent inroads on Adolph Rupp's once private domain—the Southeastern Basketball Conference?

The Bulldogs certainly put a crimp in the comeback of Rupp's Kentucky squad Monday night, stopping the Wildcats 49-44—and on their own floor.

Utilizing a coolly deliberate attack and a tenacious defense, eighth-ranked Mississippi State (19-1) kept its poise and its lead through several threats, ended second-ranked Kentucky's winning streak at 16 games, and tied the Wildcats for the conference lead at 8-1.

Mississippi State Trims Kentucky; Tied For SEC Lead

throws in running their league record to 9-1—one full game over second-place Cincinnati. All-America Chet Walker paced the winners with 23 points.

Third-ranked Cincinnati (20-2) outclassed George Washington 83-43 in a nonconference game.

Burly Len Chappell established a Wake Forest record with 50 points as the Deacons moved into a first-place tie in the Atlantic Coast Conference by blasting Virginia 116-67. Wake Forest and Duke, who meet Thursday, share the ACC lead with 8-2 records.

Colorado improved its Big Eight record to 8-0, downing Oklahoma 64-56 in a rugged game at Boulder.

Arizona State (18-3), Border champion and NCAA tourney bound, closed out its conference schedule with an 8-0 mark by trouncing Hardin-Simmons 95-67.

St. Bonaventure, getting 30 points from soph Miles Aiken, trounced DePaul at Chicago 88-69. And Jackson (Miss.) State posted a 92-80 home court victory over the nation's top-ranked small college team, Prairie View of Texas.

The Bulldogs took only the good shots and took the steam out of Kentucky's fast break with their slow-down style and rugged defense. State's gangly W. D. Stroud had 17 points while sophomore Doug Hutton was chief playmaker for the Bulldogs, who cashed in on 69 per cent of their floor shots.

Kentucky Star Larry Pursifull, guarded well by Jack Berkshire and hampered by an ailing shoulder, was held to five points. Wildcat sophomore sensation Cotton Nash had 23.

Rupp, whose Kentucky squads have won 19 Southeastern titles since the conference started 33 years ago, appeared to have another championship team this season, even though the Wildcats were supposed to be rebuilding.

Kentucky last won the SEC crown in 1957-58, with Mississippi State taking two of the three since and Auburn the other.

Ohio State's top-ranked Backers and top-ranked star Jerry Lucas had an off-night but still set a Big Ten winning streak record of 24 games with a score of 72-57 at Michigan. Also in the Big Ten: Wisconsin kept up its title hopes, beating Indiana 105-94 despite a 44-point performance by the Hoosiers' Jimmy Rayl. Dave Downey scored 24 and Bill Burwell added 22 as Illinois trimmed Northwestern 88-70. And Terry Dischinger's 38 points led Purdue over Iowa 82-73.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE COCHRAN FAMILY

The readers of this column who have requested additional material on the Cochran family of what is now Franklin County, Pennsylvania, will probably be disappointed for there is little data to be had at the present time. Descendants of John and Eleanor Cochran have been prominent in many walks of life and that fact alone should arouse interest in the pioneer ancestors but such has not been the case with the Cochrans.

The original tract of land taken up by John Cochran (sometimes spelled Coughran and Cochran) is located along the Monterey Rd. between "Waynesboro and the mountain." John Cochran was an early settler in that vicinity and was a neighbor of John Wallace, founder of Waynesboro.

It appears from the records that the families were related by marriage. Cochran was "on the ground" by 1750 and at about the same time John Wallace "took up" the tract adjoining his on the south.

OLD BURIAL GROUND

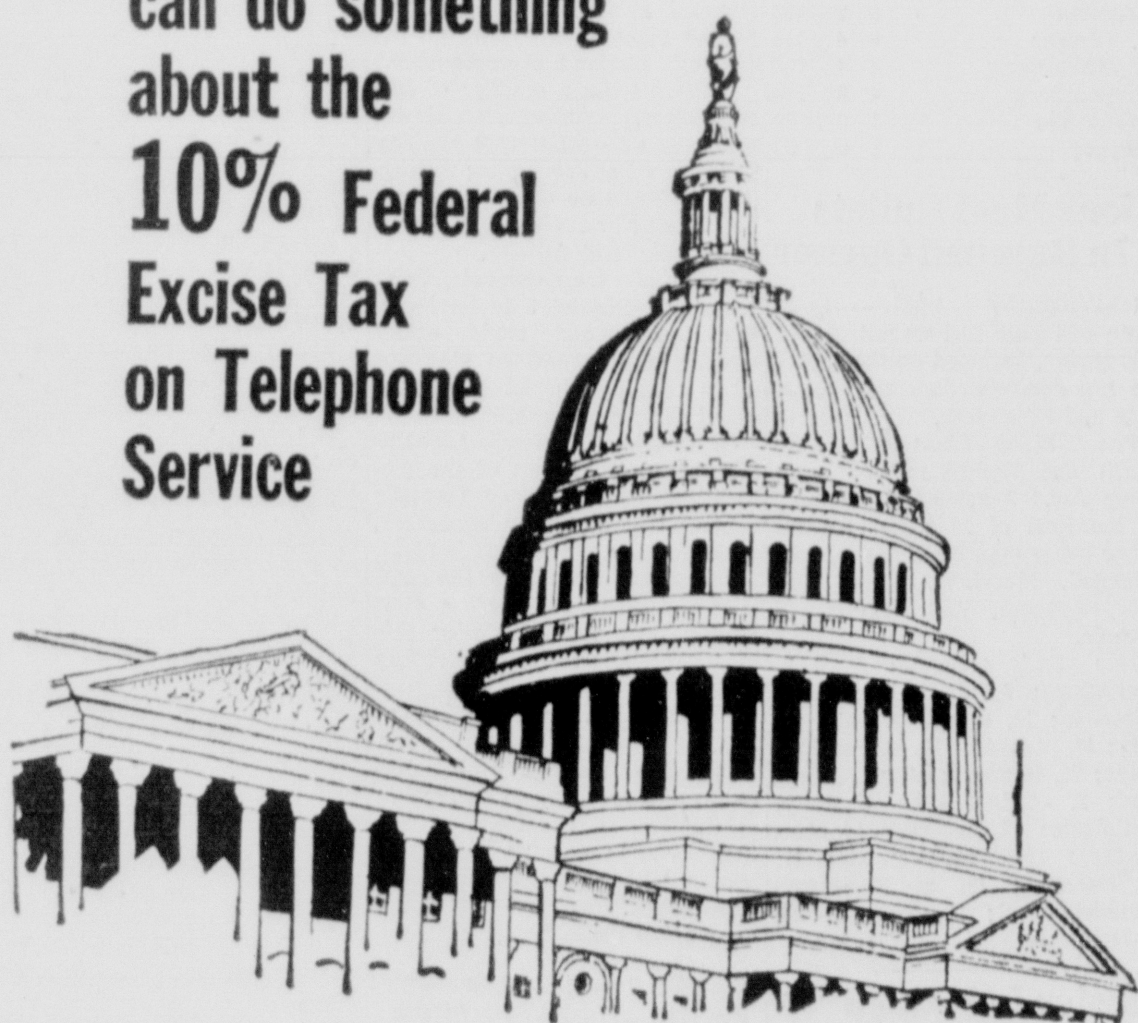

The buildings on the Cochran plantation are located along the road to Roadside and are just out of sight on the Monterey Rd. owing to a slight rise in the ground intervening. Because of this few people know of the old family burial ground which lies between the barn and the public road.

At the present time no trace, except a few scattered field stones, remains to mark this historic site but the older people of the neighborhood remember it as Cochran's graveyard. For many years, however, it has been neglected and forgotten. The bodies of the Renfrew sisters, who were killed by the Indians in an almost overlooked massacre, are said to be buried in this plot but in all probability these graves were never marked. According to a fairly reliable family tradition 16 people in all were buried here—but this could not be proved or disproved today. In fact it might tombstone, originally erected over her grave in the family burial ground, that was found many years later along a fence row. Eleanor (Cochran) Junkin was one of the students at the Enoch Brown school but fortunately for her on the day that the master and his pupils were massacred by the Indians, July 26, 1764, Eleanor and her friend, Mary Ramsey, were kept at home "to pull flax." But for this circumstance they too would have been numbered among the slain.

HAD LARGE FAMILY

Joseph and Eleanor (Cochran) Junkin became the parents of a large family and many of their descendants were outstanding in many walks of life. One of their granddaughters became the wife of "Stonewall" Jackson.

3. "Married October 17, 1766 — at Hamilton's Bann — Thomas Cochran to Margaret Knox."

Note: — The Thomas Cochran mentioned above was probably a son of John and Eleanor Cochran. Members of the Knox family were early settlers in what is now Adams County and members of the "Hill" Church. The early Knox graves are to be found in Lower Marsh Creek Cemetery.

4. "Married May 23, 1805 — at Liberty — William Cochran to Bekey Morrow."

Note: — William Cochran was probably son of John and Eleanor Cochran and his bride, "Bekey" Morrow was a native of what is now Adams County. Members of the Morrow family were also members of the "Hill" Church.

From the records of the Rev. John Roan, an early Presbyterian minister in what is now Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, some mention of the Cochran family is to be found.

5. "Married, October 1, 1771. Andrew Caldwell to Martha Cochran."

6. "Married, November 22, 1770, at Paxtang, James Cochran to Mary Montgomery."

The notes on the Cochran family will be continued in this column next week.

LOEWE, LERNER SHOW DELIGHT SAYS WRITER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Take the product of a song-writing team which has turned out such hits as "My Fair Lady," "Gigi" and "Brigadoon." Cast their finest moments with talent like Julie Andrews and Maurice Chevalier. Let a director of taste and imagination pull it all together.

The result is a joy and a delight. And that is just what Sunday night's, "The Broadway of Lerner and Loewe" proved to be during an all-too-short hour on NBC.

Although the program was built around Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, the composers appeared only briefly—and never once got into the dull dreary trap of "And then we wrote..." "Although Maurice Chevalier did sing his famous "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" and Stanley Holloway, his "Get Me to the Church on Time," most of the time the stars were doing great, popular songs with which they were not associated.

AMUSING SKETCHES

Chevalier—who was just wonderful—took on "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face." Richard Burton half-talked "Gigi," and Miss Andrews sang "With a Little Bit of Luck," originally Holloway's private domain.

There were amusing sketches, short memorable scenes in wonderful color. Altogether it was a bright, warm and beautiful show.

NBC had a second bull's eye—on Friday evening—with a light-hearted, documentary called "Debutante '62." It was a sly look at an expensive, fatiguing, frenetic preoccupation of the social launching.

Cornelia Otis Skinner, with a benign smile, called it "debutantism," and carefully explained it started centuries back when wealthy families announced their daughters had become young adults or, to put it bluntly, were in the marriage market.

NO EDITORIALIZING

The producers had no success researching the conservative old American bastions of high society—the "right" doors of Boston, Charleston, Philadelphia and Baltimore were firmly closed to them, as Miss Skinner ruefully reported. But they did get the enthusiastic cooperation from Dallas, Tex.—following a debutante from her first handshake at a tea through her formal bow.

Wisely, the program producers and Miss Skinner refrained from editorializing on the subject. The debs did that themselves—and so did the pictures of a Washington cotillion that started with curries and ended with the Twist.

It was a swell show.

TENNIS KING HOPEFUL U.S. CAN WIN CUP

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck McKinley, the new national indoor tennis king, thinks the United States has a good chance of bouncing back in the Davis Cup this year—if the team can get by the Mexicans.

"I think we should be able to take the Italians this time, if they win in Europe," the 21-year-old collegian from St. Louis said today. "But we may have a tough time with the Mexicans, playing them in Mexico City."

McKinley emerged as Uncle Sam's top Davis Cup hope by beating Whitney Reed of Ala-spokesman said Saturday that jobs are available, but: "the jobs must be incomparable skills, equivalent salary and nearby. Although an unemployed worker must take a reasonable job offer or be disqualified for benefits, he can contend that the job doesn't meet one of the conditions."

IKE IN FAVOR OF YOUNG MEN IN STATE RACE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported to have told Republicans he has no intention of campaigning for "old men" in this year's elections.

Eisenhower, who is 71, was represented as pressing party members to work for the nomination of young candidates for governor and Senate and House seats. Some confidantes quoted him as saying he wanted no "gray-haired old men" running on the GOP ticket if it could be helped.

This serve-the-youth movement apparently led the former president into some difficulties in his adopted state of Pennsylvania. He convinced Sen. Hugh Scott in a telephone conversation that Scott ought to make himself available for the party nomination for governor.

FAVOR SCOTT

Scott reported that Eisenhower said he could support actively a ticket on which Scott was a member but could not campaign for a ticket on which Judge Robert E. Woodside of the State Superior Court would run for governor and Rep. James E. Van Zandt would oppose Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat for the Senate seat. Somehow the word got out that Eisenhower considered this a "miserable ticket."

What was reported was that Eisenhower said privately that he thought the Woodside-Van Zandt ticket too old. Woodside is 57; Scott is 61 but looks younger.

Subsequently Eisenhower felt constrained to say in a telegram to Van Zandt, who is 63, that what meda, Calif., the nation's top-ranked amateur, in the national indoor finals Sunday. He had crushed Wimbledon Champion Rod Laver of Australia the day before.

WINS IN SIX SETS

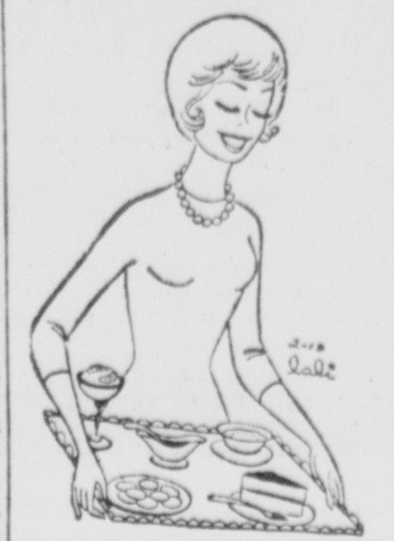

In a tense, dramatic match, which kept a sellout seventh regiment armory crowd of 4,000 glued to its seats, McKinley fought off one match point and finally prevailed 4-6, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7, 10-8.

"We have the foundation of a good team," McKinley said, looking toward the 1962 international campaign. "Besides Reed, we have Denny Ralston, Jon Dourlas, Donald Dell and Frank Froehling, besides myself."

"I hear the Mexicans are pointing to us, and they'll be tough... playing at home in that mile high atmosphere. But if we can get by the Mexicans, we may foot a lot of people."

DIETER GETS JUST DESERTS. A lovely writes: Please tell us reducers how to control a sweet tooth. I crave sweets to the point where I'd rather be fat than eat another piece of raw fruit for dessert. Then, of course, I go overboard, have a double chocolate fudge sundae, and feel conscience-stricken. As for my weight—

The Answer: A reducer with a nagging desire for sweet desserts cannot be and should not be expected to give them up altogether. Rather she should substitute low-calorie delights for high. Their flavor is every bit as satisfying. And you can indulge without the fear of becoming a reducing failure.

What are these miracles? Well, now, some are made from recipes found in cookbooks for dieters. Others come packaged, ready-to-serve or quick-to-prepare. Among he had said was not "in any way intended as personally derogatory to you."

OTHER TICKETS

Whatever happens in Pennsylvania, Eisenhower has some comparatively youthful candidates going for him in several states.

He didn't have to urge Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is 53, to seek re-election in New York. But he encouraged Fred A. Seaton, 52, his former secretary of interior, to seek the Nebraska governorship.

The former president was one of those who helped convince former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is 48, that he ought to run for the Republican nomination for governor in California.

Eisenhower also had a potent influence on the decision of George Romney, American Motors president, to run for the GOP nomination for governor in Michigan. Romney is 54.

ready desserts, there are low-calorie ice creams and sherberts; angle puffs and cookies; whipped "cream" topping and chocolate syrup.

With little preparation, dieters' puddings, gelatins, cake mixes and icings make luscious treats. Actually all the foods mentioned become gourmet fare, if you use some imagination in serving them. For a real taste thrill, sprinkle instant coffee on vanilla pudding or top orange sherbet with fresh orange slices.

First thing you know, you will prefer your newly sophisticated desserts to the old and hackneyed ones. Your wisdom tooth will then gain favor over your sweet tooth!

HUNDREDS ARE ROUTED FROM FLOODED AREA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm temperatures and unusually heavy rain turned some mountain snowpacks—the West's water storage vaults—into flood waters over the weekend, routing hundreds from their homes in Idaho and Wyoming.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho declared a state of emergency and National Guard, Red Cross and civil defense units were called to help.

There was some flooding in Utah, too. The melted snow roared down U.S. Highway 40 at Heber east of Salt Lake City and closed the highway.

Rivers and creeks overflowed in the Riverton-Lander area of central Wyoming and forced more than 300 families to seek emergency shelter.

DENTIST KILLED

Temperatures in the 50s and rain loosened an avalanche in a canyon east of Afton in western Wyoming and killed an Afton dentist, Dr. Max H. Stock, 34, who was looking over a potential new ski area.

The Portneuf River in south-eastern Idaho flooded on the southern edge of Pocatello. The river washed out two bridges at the Lava Hot Springs resort south of Pocatello. Idaho National Guardsmen rescued 36 patients from a rest home and took them to hospitals in Pocatello.

Melted snow from the hills inundated the town of Bancroft east of Pocatello. Water was six feet deep in spots.

More than 300 families abandoned homes in the Idaho Falls area Sunday night. Heavy rain, hail and severe electrical storm hindered the evacuation.

The Lincoln Highway—U.S. 30—was washed out east and west of Pocatello.

A part of the Union Pacific Railroad main line was flooded out east of Pocatello. The east-bound City of Portland streamliner was delayed seven hours.

Weather Bureau officials said the ground, frozen hard by a January cold wave, failed to absorb the melting snow, sending the water cascading into lowlands

NETWORKS TO DROP 35 TV PRODUCTIONS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing much is really final, but it looks now as though some 35 programs currently on TV network schedules will not be around next September.

That represents about a third of TV prime evening time schedules—about par for the annual course. Cancellations will affect particularly police-action and filmed comedy shows, among them the cartoons which didn't fulfill the promise of "The Flintstones" which kicked off the trend two seasons ago.

Among the older programs expected to go, making room for new, are "Lawman," "Adventures in Paradise," "Surfside 6," "Bachelor Father," "Hennessey," "Twilight Zone," "National Velvet," "Thriller," "The Detectives" and "The Tall Man."

NEW SCHEDULES

All three networks have a pretty good idea now about what their next season's schedules will look like, although there may be some shifting around. At this early date, it looks as if there are only about seven hours left open to fill—and there are at least 200 show ideas and pilot programs competing for those hours.

PAAR REPLACEMENTS

Jack Paar plans one final working trip before he leaves his late-evening show for good—to London for three shows which will be seen in mid-March. NBC has lined up Art Linkletter and Joey Bishop to play host on the show—the former for two weeks and the latter for one—in April, first of a string of substitutes to keep the show alive and sponsors happy until Johnny Carson takes over in the fall.

NBC is forced to reshuffle its schedule of "Hazel" shows and drop in a rerun because Shirley Booth was knocked out of action recently with an abscessed tooth, and Don DeFore, who plays her boss, was bedded with an attack of flu—his second this season.

Recommended tonight: "Seeds of April," NBC, 9-10 (EST)—drama in the Dick Powell Show series, with Gene Barry, Keenan Wynn and Nina Foch; "Mr. Easy," ABC, 10-11—Fred Astaire starring in a comedy.

Recover Bodies Of 8 Air Force Men

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The bodies of eight U.S. Army and Air Force men killed in the crash of a Vietnamese transport plane Sunday have been recovered. A spokesman said today the bodies were sent to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines for identification.

The Americans were advisers to South Viet Nam's armed forces fighting the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Two Vietnamese were also aboard the C47 which crashed and burned in mountainous guerrilla country 80 miles northeast of Saigon on a leaflet dropping mission.

Missile Firing Is Unsuccessful

PT. MUGU, Calif. (AP)—The first announced night firing of a Nike-Zeus ended with technical difficulty a few seconds after launch Monday night.

The 48-foot missile killer successfully went into power flight down the Pacific missile range, but then ran into problems of an undisclosed nature. A safety computer halted the test.

An Army spokesman said certain test objectives were met, including correct reception and execution of commands transmitted to the missile from a ground guidance center. The missile is designed to intercept and destroy enemy ICBMs.

THREE YOUTHS DIED IN FIRE

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Fire that swept a home Monday killing three children was blamed today on a faulty kerosene stove.

Easton Fire Chief Andrew Ruppert said the stove was located in the kitchen of the two-story frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alvin located just south of the city's business district.

Firemen found the victims—Patricia Alvin 4; her brother, Edward, Jr., 2; and a sister, Ann Jeanette, 1—huddled together in upstairs bedroom.

The mother, who had been bringing two other children from a nearby school, returned to find firemen fighting the blaze.

Her husband, who had been on an errand, appeared minutes later and had to be forcefully restrained from entering the house.

The Alvins are Negroes.

Steelworkers Move To Formal Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—More than 200 negotiators of the United Steelworkers Union meet here today to smooth out their approach to the formal steel contract talks which begin Wednesday.

The union drew up its contract proposals in talks last week. It indicated it will seek improvements in job security and unemployment benefits.

The present wage scale for 430,000 steel workers ranges from $2.28½ to $4.38½ an hour.

STAR'S BABY DIES

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A son was born Monday to singer Gogi Grant but died an hour later, possibly from a blood clot, doctors said. Her husband is attorney Robert Rifkind.

SEA CAPTAIN 46 YEARS SAYS HE HATES JOB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Geoffrey M. Fletcher, craggy-faced captain of the British luxury liner Andes, has a confession to make about his 46 years at sea.

"I hate it," he told astonished reporters Monday after the 27,000-ton vessel docked on its first visit to San Francisco.

"I'm afraid of it," he continued calmly, holding a cup of tea in one hand and his pipe in the other. "You should see me at sea, especially in rough weather. I know what the sea can do."

Capt. Fletcher, a bluff English seadog with sparse gray hair and an engaging smile, received the press in his cabin aboard the flagship of the British Royal Mail Lines. He disclosed that this is his last voyage before retirement when the Andes returns to Southampton on its round-the-world cruise.

FAMILY TRADITION

He was asked: "Then why, captain, did you go to sea in the first place?"

It was sort of family tradition, he said, and then added thoughtfully: "It was poverty. I went to sea at 15 and I'm 60 now. I've been too cowardly to change."

"Would you send your son to sea?"

"I happen to be a bachelor, thank God," replied Fletcher.

"Actually, the sea's not so bad when the sun is shining," he said in reply to a persistent questioner. "But when the weather turns bad I don't like it a bit. Oh, I don't go around trembling, of course—that wouldn't do, you know—but I don't like it."

Say Lincoln May Oppose Statism

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If Abraham Lincoln were alive today, he would be most concerned with the doctrine of individual responsibility in a republic, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon told a Lincoln's birthday dinner Monday that this question cuts across the activities of government, business, labor, farmers and every citizen.

Nixon said Lincoln would ask: "What happens to the individual and his own initiative where the government assumes more and more responsibility for getting things done?"

Answered Nixon: "He (Lincoln) certainly would question and, I think, oppose statism or centralization in any form."

9,000 Pounds Of Chocolate Help

ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich. (AP)—It took 9,000 pounds of assorted chocolates, but the medical bills for Karen Dodge are paid.

Karen, 2, was scalded two days before Christmas when she pulled a coffee pot off the kitchen stove.

Her father, Herbert Dodge, a teacher at Brownell Junior High School in Grosse Pointe, had let his hospitalization insurance lapse.

Karen needed blood transfusions, round-the-clock nursing and skin grafts. Students and teachers at Brownell went from door to door selling chocolates—9,000 boxes.

The profits came to $3,700. Student committees went to doctors, the hospitals, the laboratories Monday paying the bills.

Lin Crosby's Wife Remains In Coma

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lindsay Crosby's wife Barbara remains in a coma at a Burbank hospital, ill from what Crosby said was a complication of pregnancy.

The former Las Vegas, Nev., showgirl, daughter-in-law of Bing Crosby, is expecting her second child in June. Dr. Abner Moss said Monday night that she was a little better but declined to state the nature of her ailment.

Mrs. Crosby, 23, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Sunday night.

BABY IS RESCUED

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—A passerby spotted three-year-old Gregory Uffner of Lebanon face down in the icy water of Quittapahilla Creek Monday and carried him to safety.

Police said the boy, who wandered away from his home, fell eight feet from a railroad trestle into about two feet of water.

William Kline Jr. 47, also of Lebanon, rescued the boy who was treated at Good Samaritan Hospital for exposure and released.

Thousands March In Paris In Protest Against S.A.O.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

PARIS (AP)—Between 150,000 and 200,000 Parisians marched slowly through the streets today in silent protest against the Secret Army Organization and police repression of demonstrations against the right-wing terrorists.

It was one of the biggest assemblages in the French capital since the 1944 liberation.

The vast throng marched two miles from the historic Place de la Republique to Pere Lachaise Cemetery with the bodies of four of the eight persons killed in wild street fighting last Thursday night between police and Communist-led demonstrators against the secret army.

BAN IS RELAXED

The government relaxed its ban on public demonstrations for the funeral, which was arranged by virtually all labor and left-wing organizations in Paris.

The bodies of the other four demonstrators were sent to their hometowns in the provinces for burial.

The streets leading into the Place de la Republique were moving rivers of flowers as marchers clutched bouquets and began the two-mile march. The bodies were carried in hearses almost hidden under wreaths of flowers. Six hearses followed with flowers for the graves.

ELECTRICAL STRIKE

Gray, rainy skies added to the gloom and an electricity workers' strike darkened shops and stores in the area. Umbrellas opened as a slow drizzle began to fall. Only the sound of the thousands of feet moving along the street broke the dreary silence. The familiar clatter of buses and the muffled roar of the subways were missing as transport workers joined in strikes called on nearly all levels of the economy.

In the forefront of the throng were former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, leader of a Socialist splinter party; Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the French Communist party, and his deputy, Jacques Duclos.

GIRL ASPHYXIATED

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 12-year-old girl who collapsed Monday in a swimming pool at the Scotland School for veterans' children was asphyxiated, officials report.

R. John Manges, Franklin County coroner, said Charlotte Jean Portner became ill and choked. She died en route to Chambersburg Hospital.

Russia Doesn't Expect U.S. Will Accept Khrushchev's Call For A Summit Meeting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is like a watchmaker overdoing a dance. He has excellent timing but too much twist. The latest twist is in the report of his newest proposal: an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament next month.

He'd probably be more surprised than anyone if President Kennedy accepted. But, from his view, this is a good time to suggest it.

That's because he can handle foreign affairs like a TV Western where everyone is either a good guy or a bad one. Sometimes he acts like a bad guy. Then he tries to make up for it.

WAS BAD GUY
He was very much the bad guy outside Russia last September when he suddenly resumed nuclear testing. He got bad notices around the world and has been playing nice most of the time since.

Over the weekend he put on the good guy's hat again by releasing the American spy, U2 flier Francis Gary Powers. Moscow did not announce it was just swapping him for a Soviet spy caught here, Col. Rudolf Abel.

Abel, jailed here since 1957, was under 30-years sentence. Powers, brought down over Russia May 1, 1960, got 10 years.

GOT PUBLICITY
Neither man, after the initial publicity in each case, was worth anything to the country holding him. The U2 flights are ended and Abel is washed up as a spy.

But Khrushchev got worldwide publicity out of it and doubled his good guy bet by proposing the summit meeting, knowing beforehand that Kennedy, having taken the position there should be no summit meeting unless the two sides show more evidence of agreeing than they have so far, would almost certainly say no.

If Kennedy should then resume nuclear testing, unless he feels Khrushchev has now maneuvered him into a bad spot for resuming, the Russian can hope some of the bad public reaction would rub off on the President.

NEW RED TWIST

All of this goes to show the Khrushchev twist, which has been something to watch.

All the disarmament talks since World War II have gotten no where—as have talks on nuclear testing between the United States, Britain and Russia. They began negotiations on testing 39 months ago in Geneva. From then until last September no one tested.

Kennedy was under pressure from some of his advisers, since the talks accomplished nothing, to resume testing. He did not. But Khrushchev was practicing one of his twists. The Russians for months had been secretly preparing to test.

STARTS TESTING

When they were ready, on Aug. 31, 1961, Khrushchev suddenly announced in the midst of the talks that the tests would start. They did the next day. The talks collapsed Sept. 8.

There had been two big stumbling blocks: The West wanted an inspection system—which the Russians called spying — to prevent cheating and the Russians kept insisting test ban talks should be part of general disarmament talks.

Khrushchev then tried something he knew the West wouldn't buy at all. He said if he agreed to an inspection system, the West must agree to letting Russia have a veto. In other words: no inspection.

ANOTHER REFUSAL

After Russia resumed testing,

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Lady, has your marriage become dull, routine and—let's admit it—a bit boring?

Does your husband turn an obedient and absent-minded cheek toward you when you kiss him goodbye as he starts off to work in the morning?

Well, lady, maybe it isn't altogether his fault that your life together is something less than one long glad sweet song. Maybe you're at fault, too—startling as the thought may be.

TIME TO CHANGE

Valentine's Day is a good time to change all that.

The way to change this dreary situation, lady, is not to ask yourself what your husband ought to do for you on Valentine's Day—but to see what you can do for him.

What can a wife do at Valentine time to bring back that old love-light in her husband's eyes? How can she woo him to a new appreciation of her timeless charms?

Well, there are many ways.

Give him an extra dime for lunch.

MUSHY VALENTINE

Surprise him with a present. He has probably hidden in the back of the closet that rainbow-colored necktie you gave him for Christmas. Dig it out, wrap it in a fancy box, and give it to him all over again. He won't remember you gave it to him before.

Every man tries to forget the Christmas ties he receives. Anyway, it isn't the value of a gift that counts — it's the spirit behind it.

Send him a mushy Valentine, but don't ruin it by signing it with your own name. Sign the name of the girl that jilted your husband in high school. That'll send the old boy's blood pressure up 40 points.

Best of all, dress up in your slinkiest dress. Cook your husband's favorite meal, toast him with champagne.

BUT HE'LL REMEMBER

After dinner, adjourn to the living room. Light a log fire—or, if you don't have a fireplace, turn up the thermostat. Set your husband in a comfortable sofa, turn down the lights, stick a four-bit cigar in his mouth, and run your fingers lovingly through his hair—if he has any left.

Now cuddle up at his feet and softly read to him from a book of love poems. When he begins to snore, cover him with a blanket and let him sleep on the sofa all night.

When your husband goes to his office next morning he'll tell everybody, "Guess what happened last night? My wife went out of her ever-loving mind!"

But he'll remember your romantic Valentine evening together—and brag about it—as long as he lives.

GEORGE BURNS WITH CHANNING IN "52ND ACT"

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Burns and Channing is the name of George Burns' 52nd act.

If it's as successful as his 51st, he'll be a lucky man indeed.

His last act was Burns and Allen. It broke up after 35 years because Gracie didn't want to play any more.

After three years as a single, George is joining forces with blonde, big-eyed Carol Channing. They'll play a number of dates this summer, including the World's Fair at Seattle.

"NOT ANOTHER GRACIE"

"This is not really a new team," George explained, "because Carol is a star in her own right. In our act I'll do some material alone and she'll do some things to gether."

"But she won't be another Gracie. She couldn't be; they're not at all alike."

He admitted that one of his main reasons for performing is so he can sing. "If they wouldn't let me sing, I wouldn't play," said old sugar throat.

"Gracie was never wide-eyed. She was dumb but never realized it. She was positive about everything she did."

George said that if the act clicks, he and Carol would play eight or nine weeks of dates a year, and perhaps a TV special.

"Carol likes to work 52 weeks a year, but not me," he added. "I'm crazy about show business, too, but not that crazy."

He admitted that one of his main reasons for performing is so he can sing. "If they wouldn't let me sing, I wouldn't play," said old sugar throat.

This is the Ford Fairlane's new Challenger "260" V-8.

There's no other V-8 like it. It's the latest in a series of Ford V-8 triumphs that started back in 1932 when Ford introduced the world's first popular-priced V-8. Today—30 years and 30 million V-8's later—the Challenger "260" adds new fuel to the hottest performance record in V-8 history. It gives you all the time-tested toughness of iron—with a lightness and compactness iron never had before. A muscular 164 hp, this new Challenger "260" V-8 is all snap, sparkle and smoothness. It runs on regular, yet gives you better gas mileage than any standard-size 6-cylinder car. Price it and you're in for a surprise—a Fairlane V-8 carries a smaller price tag than some compact Sixes. And, of course, a Fairlane gives you big-car room and fine-car quality you'll find in no other car anywhere near Fairlane's amazing low price. There's never been a buy like Fairlane because there's never been a car like Fairlane; that's why this all-new car from Ford is now out-selling every other "new-size" car!
